

The Advanced Placement US Government and Politics course has seven major concepts that help lay the foundation for our understanding of how the US government operates. To help us better understand these concepts there are nine required documents.

This summer you are required to examine two of these seven concepts in more depth. You may pick any two concepts of your choice to examine, keeping in mind that throughout our year together will examine all seven of the concepts. There is also the option of doing a third concept paper. You will need to read and analyze the documents associated with the concept. Additionally, you will identify four current event articles (from the past year) that relate to the concept. Using your analysis of the concept's documents and the current event articles you identified, you will write a one page response explaining your understanding of the concept in the current political atmosphere.

How to turn in your work:

Mr. Drexel

Join the AP Gov Summer Work Google Classroom - Code: d39i0hf

Please turn in your two responses as two separate documents on Classroom. Include a bibliography for each response that includes the four articles you have identified. You may use Noodletools to make this easier for yourself.

Both of your responses with bibliographies are due by 11:30 pm on August 25, 2019.

Please email Ms. MacIntosh or Mr. Drexel over the summer with any questions.
