COURSE DESCRIPTION

This is a two semester, two credit course. It is intended for a student who has successfully completed Latin 10. In this course, students will continue to learn vocabulary, grammar structures and Roman customs and civilization while reading more complex passages in Latin.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

What do the Romans think of others? Students will journey with Quintus Caecilius to his new home in Roman Britain. Through his contacts, students will explore concepts of Roman superstitions, religion, the Roman army, administration of the provinces, political intrigue, the Roman concept of dignitas, philosophy, and empire building. Word derivation is also included when learning vocabulary to foster competence in English word usage. By the end of the course, students are expected to demonstrate improved performance in their reading and translating skills.

UNITS OF STUDY
